

Traditional ways of working are changing, perhaps for good. For some the idea of working in the same location everyday has been challenged as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. Remote and flexible working is now commonplace, and many employees are choosing to relocate to be closer to their family and friends. Technology enables this shift, known as tele-working.

Work life balance

Tele-working can help maintain a healthy work/life balance, but how will your business travel insurance programme respond to tele-workers that require medical assistance in a different country following an accident?

Tele-working cover from Chubb

Tele-working coverage from Chubb helps ensure your employees are covered wherever they decide to work anywhere in the world. Some of the benefits include:

24/7 emergency medical and security assistance

Personal assistance cover for:

- Emergency medical transport
- On-site physician costs

Medical expenses cover up to CHF 200'000

Repatriation back to home country

Coverage in case of hospitalisation

Access to the Chubb Travel Smart app

Cover for dental treatment, glasses and acoustics

No excess

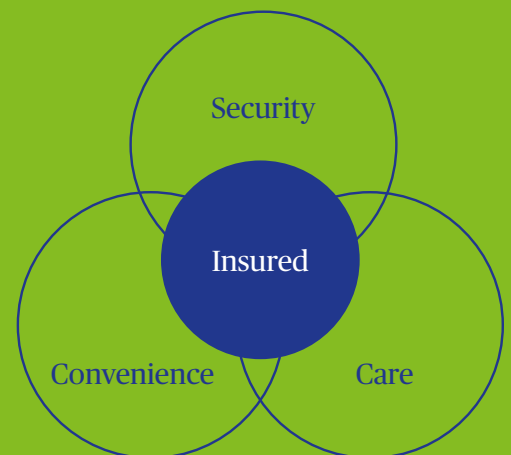

Security, care and convenience

Business travellers around the world are enjoying safer, smarter trips with Chubb.

From 24/7 security and medical assistance, mental health support, and personal accident coverage, through to cover to lost baggage, flight delays, and stolen bank cards.

Our policyholders can also access pre-travel training, information on the destination and receive real-time security alerts straight to their smart phone.

We're protecting employees, where your business takes them.
