Market Commentary

Indonesia announced a weak GDP figure in second quarter 2020 with the main cause was weak consumption and investment amid the COVID-19 pandemic. COVID-19 cases in Indonesia have risen again and reached 174,796 cases with Jakarta as the center of the spread. In August, Indonesia turned out to be deflation -0.05% in a month which brought annual inflation to 1.32% down from the previous 1.54% in July. Rupiah closed slightly higher by 0.3% to IDR 14,563 / USD. The Jakarta Composite Index (JCI) closed positively with return 1.73% in a month. Foreign funds still recorded an outflow of IDR 8.5 trillion from the stock market in August. Stock market is supported by investors' expectations of fiscal stimulus and abundant liquidity. Meanwhile, concerns about government intervention in the banking sector seem to be eased and investors' confidence were recovery which is driving the whole market.
