Market Commentary

After a wavy ride in January, Indonesian stocks have performed excellently in February 2022. This is because Indonesia can prove to be a better place in the current global condition. Energy prices, especially oil prices, have been quite elevated for some time. Although still a net oil importer, Indonesia benefits by becoming the main exporter of CPO and coal where currently soaring in price. Global investors seemed to forget Indonesia for the past two years due to the pandemic. Now with the normalized economy in developed markets, global investors search for countries that can deliver growth with decent valuation. Indonesia is among of few countries that can overcome pandemics quite well considering the huge population and many islands. JCI records high steadily and we think the rally has the leg.
