

Insurance for Technology Companies

CHUBB®

At Chubb, we've been in the technology business longer than any other insurer, and have built a reputation for being fair to our policyholders, innovative in our product offerings and flexible in crafting property and liability insurance solutions tailored to meet many needs and budgets.

Policies can be bought as stand-alone sections for property, liability, cyber or professional indemnity; a combined professional indemnity and liability policy is also available. It pays to buy a package policy as technology companies can enjoy the ease of working with one insurer to give them a policy that's easy and straightforward to use.

Why do technology companies need a specialist insurance solution?

Technology companies' key risk is contractual liability from a failure in the product/service they provide to their customers.

In Chubb's experience, over 90% of technology company claims arise from breach of contract.

Technology companies face both tangible risks (for example risks associated with a company's physical product) and/or intangible risks (for example advice or design) on a third party basis.

Professional indemnity cover for both tangible and intangible risks is therefore essential for technology companies.

Innovation through research and development is vital to the success of technology companies. Business interruption cover must therefore provide cover not only for product and service revenue streams but also for research and development expenditure.

Policy offering

What cover can Chubb provide?

IT Liability Insurance

The Professional Indemnity (E&O) section can respond to liability arising from claims for financial injury suffered by a customer due to defects, deficiencies or a failure to perform pursuant to a contract. Coverage includes protection for both performance based contractual liability and liability assumed in contract (indemnities and hold harmless agreements). Our policy can also extend to cover unpaid fees in relation to disputed work.

Technology-related injury (Intellectual Property, Privacy and Media) protects against infringement of intellectual property, violation of a person's right of privacy, libel or slander and breach of confidentiality.

The Cyber coverage section is designed to provide protection from privacy infringement liability, network security liability, media liability, cyber extortion, data asset loss, business interruption, and incident response expenses.

The General Liability section offers broad protection for bodily injury and tangible property damage claims irrespective of whether you designed, manufactured, installed or distributed the final product, or stemming from software that fails to perform. Our policy protects the insured against damage to a customer's premises or injuries to non-employees. Product recall expense is also covered.

Under the Property section, we have the ability to provide limits up to US$850 million on either primary, excess or full value basis on a "Fire and Named Perils" or 'All Risks' coverage for physical assets, interruption to the business or loss of profits against any physical loss, destruction or damage not otherwise excluded and Natural Catastrophe Perils Coverage both on a domestic or global programme basis.

Under the Terrorism & Political Violence section, we have the ability to provide limits up to US$100 million on either primary, excess or full value basis for Terrorism, Riots, Strikes, Civil Commotion and Malicious Damage, Political Violence Cover (Including or Excluding War & Civil War).
