Europe

Europe is primarily a bank guarantee market. Surety bonds are more readily recognized in the United Kingdom than in other European regions or countries except for Italy.

Surety bonds in Europe can either be conditional or pay on demand, depending on the beneficiary's requirements. Contract bonds tend to be a percentage of the contract value.

Asia Pacific

The Asia Pacific region is dominated by bank guarantees.

Australia does have a developed surety market. All bonds in Australia are pay on demand with a very short pay period.

The region is heavily dependent on trade and trade expectations generally drive growth.
